

Save the Date – Friday, July 2, 2010

Join Us in Celebrating MERI's 20th Anniversary

A Special Evening with

Jim Fowler

Best known as host of the television wildlife series, Mutual of Omaha's Wild Kingdom, the legendary Jim Fowler has been a tireless advocate for wildlife conservation around the world. For his dedication to finding new ways to protecting the wild for future generations through communication and education, he has received numerous lifetime achievement awards and served as the inspiration behind the Explorers Club's State of the Oceans Forums, chaired by Dr. Susan Shaw.

On Friday July 2, 2010, Jim Fowler will host an exciting evening celebrating MERI's past, present, future success in protecting the health and biodiversity of the ocean environment. With wild animals and delicious food, this is a summer night not to be missed. We hope you'll join us!

Marine Environmental Research Institute

PO Box 1652, 55 Main Street, Blue Hill, Maine telephone: (207) 374-2135 www.meriresearch.org